Character Trait(s)

Courage and Commitment

Courage is your ability to overcome anything, despite how hard or difficult you believe it may be. Commitment refers to how much you believe in something and how much you are willing to work to accomplish that something. In school, you demonstrate courage and commitment each day. Doing classwork, learning new things, making new friends, and even making decisions at times may appear to be difficult. However, it is your level of courage and commitment that helps you to meet challenges and overcome them, even at times when you do not believe you can.

Doc Cee demonstrates the highest levels of courage and commitment in this story. He is committed to becoming the greatest boxer in the world. His courage allows him to mentally and physically train his body in the effort to help him achieve his goals and aspirations.

Courage and Commitment are wonderful traits to have because they help you to become a leader who can make great decisions and achieve your goals. And of course, reading is key to helping you focus your courageous and committed efforts in the right direction.

In a boxing ring in downtown Louisville,
Doc Cee was training and tuning his skill.
With rhythm he punched at the boxing speed bag;
The crowd did notice it sway and zig-zag.

Miss Livy then asked her big brother, Doc Cee,
“A boxer, is this what you’re training to be?”

Doc Cee kept punching just like a machine,
Until he had finished his boxing routine.
